NEW DEPARTMENT IN SECOND PLAY

BARRIES' 'TWELVE POUND LOOK' TO BE READ IN COSTUME.

TO CHOOSE THREE BEST

Music and Literature Department Will Then Present Them at Public Performance.

The newly organized Music and Literature Department of the Twentieth Century Club will give its first indoor play at its meeting next Tuesday afternoon, when "The Twelve Pound Look" by J. M. Barrie, will be presented in Recital Hall at the Conservatory of Music.

The department's opening play was "The Fountain of Youth," by Constance D'Arey McKay, which was presented in the W. C. Pierce garden. "The Twelve Pound Look" will not be committed to memory, as was the first play, but will be read in costume, with correct stage setting.

It is the intention of the club members, at the close of the year, to choose the three best plays given during the fall and winter and present them in public performance.

Mrs. Anderson Craig will give a ten-minute sketch of Barrie before the play is presented. The accompanying music will be Scotch, with the following music:

Piano solo—Mrs. Fred Bellows.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Frank White.
Vocal duet—Mrs. R. E. Snodgrass and Mrs. Jesse Douglas.

The fifteen-minute community sing will be led by Mrs. O. L. Curl.

The cast of characters for "The Twelve Pound Look" will be as follows:

Sir Harry Sims—Mrs. Elmer Fraser.
Lady Sims—Miss Mary Gwinn.
Kate, a stenographer—Mrs. Brint Embree.
Butler—Mrs. Marve Curnutt.

The scene of the play is conceived as lid in an ordinary home. Sir Harry is made a city man, but he could as well be a fashionable doctor, secretary of state or what you will. It is a day in his career when everything went wrong, just when everything seemed to be superlatively right. In Harry's case, it was a woman who did the mischief. She came to him in his great hour (he was worth a quarter of a million and was about to receive the honor of knighthood) and told him she did not admire him. Of course he turned her out of the house, but it spoiled the morning for him.

The heroine of the play is Kate, the former wife of Sir Harry. She is a typist sent for to perform a task for Sir Harry, but she carries her typewriter in a friendly way rather than as a badge of slavery. Self-reliant and serene she is in odd contrast to Lady Sims, who has a maid to wait upon her, but who gazes with a little envy at the typist who does things for herself.

Parents Should Examine The Reports Carefully, Says Principal—Should Be No Erasures

H. O. Ezell Principal of the High School said today that grade cards would be issued Monday. Tre grades will be made in ink and he made it plain that no erasers would be used, assuring the parents that the students can not change their grades without being detected.

The grade card will contain, besides the grades, the number of daily absences, the times tardy and also the number of demerits given. The cards are to be signed and returned within three days. Mr. Ezell says that if any of the parents have any questions about the standing of any pupil or about absenses he wishes they would call him and he will be glad to explain. There will be no conditions given this year, unless the student has been absent on account of sickness, he said. Students will either pass or flunk.

DRIVES AUTOMOBILE INTO FLAGPOLE AT 4th AND MAIN

George Coler Fails to See Obstacle in Center of Street Intersection.

That automobiles almost invariably come off second best in encounters with white way posts and flag poles was again demonstrated about 3 o'clock this afternoon, when George Coler, who lives near Maryville, drove his Studebaker car into the big pole at the intersection of Fourth and Main streets. The radiators of the car was damaged, but the pole was unhurt.

Coler declared he was watching another car and did not see the pole. About three weeks ago, in the same car, he was in a collision on a country road with a heavy Haynes car driven by Fred Diss. No one was hurt on either occasion.

BRITAIN MAY CANCEL WAR DEBTS ALLIED NATIONS

Plans Spectacular Move to Tighten Hold on World's Markets, Says Report

London, Oct. 21,—Great Britain is planning a spectacular move on the eve of the Washington disarmament conference toward the cancellation of Allied debts. She is considering a definite plan to wipe out all the debts owed her by the Allied nations. This must have the approval of the cabinet, the International News Service has learned authoritatively.

British officials pointed out that such a step will enormously enhance British prestige and have a strong influence upon exchange throughout the world in favor of Great Britain and would give the empire a firmer grip on the world's markets.

The Buick car which Roy Hinckle and Clyde Finley, both colored, used last Friday when they burglarized the Remus Mercantile Co., of this city, belongs to Fred McElrath of Mobille Ia., according to a message received today by Mayor Fred Robinson. The car was stolen three months ago, and the insurance company settled with Mr. Elrath for his car. A representative from the insurance company will come to Maryville to get the car. This car has been kept by the city in the fire station here.

The Omaha officials thought they might get information leading to Hinckle's companion but it was said Hinckle as well as Finley, refused to answer questions. Other robberies in that city probably could be traced to Hinckle, these men thought.

Sheriff Roach will take Hinckle and Finley to the pententiary Sunday. Hinckle was given a sentence of ten years and Finley a sentence of eight years.

WALLACE TO HELP RUN DOWN BANDITS

JOINS SEARCH FOR GANG OF IOWA DESPERADOES.

POSSE THROUGH HERE

Gang Ransacks Little Town, Then Kills One and Fatally Wounds Three of Pursuing Party.

Night Policeman Ed Wallace left Maryville this morning to assist Iowa officials in the pursuit of a bandit gang which early Wednesday morning completely ransacked the little town of Columbia, Ia., and later killed one man and perhaps fatally wounded three others who were members of a posse which overtook them near Murray, Ia.

A posse from Osceola, Ia., came through Maryville about 2 o'clock this morning. In the party was the sheriff and a deputy, a finger print expert and a Des Moines detective. They said the blue Hudson touring car, in which the bandits were traveling, had been abandoned in a ditch near Fillmore, and they hoped to round up the gang today.

The car driven by the sheriff was the same as that in which he engaged in the fatal battle with the highwaymen Wednesday. It was perforated with bullet holes.

The bandits entered and looted every one of the four stores of Columbia. Afterward they stopped on the bank of a creek, where they camped. Charles W. Jones, a farmer, observed them from his house and telephoned the sheriff, who came out alone. He deputized Jones and three other men and challenged the camp. Except for the sheriff the posse is said to have been unarmed. A fusillade of shots answered them and the three deputies fell. Jones rushed to the rescue and was shot down.

It was rumored here yesterday that the gang had passed through Maryville in its flight, but so far as is known the report is unfounded. Officials here received word to be on the lookout about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

BUT PREPARATIONS FOR GREATEST STRIKE CONTINUE

700 GO OUT TOMORROW

Texas Rail Workers Will Not Wait For General Order To Take Effect

Chicago, Oct. 21—The railway labor board this afternoon took the initiative in another move to avert the threatened railroad strike, when it summoned here for conference next Wednesday both executives of the railroads and leaders of the brotherhoods. The decision to call this conference was announced following the meeting of the board.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Preparations for the biggest railroad strike in history were going forward today as the result of the failure of the conference here between the chiefs of the railway brotherhoods and members of the Railway Labor Board to reach an agreement.

No further parleys will be held, and unless a new move toward a settlement comes within nine days, the walkout will take place October 30. The next move, it was conceded here, must come from Washington.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—The strike situation is the same as it was Tuesday, announced Warren Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, upon his arrival from Chicago today. He announced that the strike will go ahead.

San Antonio, Oct. 21.—The opening gun of the theatened country wide strike will be fired here tomorrow when seven hundred employees of the International and Guest Northern railroad will walk out at noon. A telegram from the railroad strike headquarters received by R. D. Frame, representing the employes, gives official sanction of the walkout.

Cleveland, Oct. 21—The strike of trainmen employed by the International and Great Northern in Texas is not a part of the nation-wide rail strike, an official of the brotherhoods announced this afternoon. The Texas walkout was authorized independently of the general strike announced.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 21.—Declaring Oklahoma justified in taking possession of all railroad properties in the state and operating them in event of strike, Governor Robertson today called on Chambers of Commerce and Mayors to appoint committees to ascertain names and addresses of all engineers and fireman who are willing to volunteer to serve in operating trains if such action becomes necessary.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

URGES WORK ON ROADS FOR STRIKE PROTECTION

Permanent Fills Should Be Made At Once So That Bad Weather Will Not Make Them Impassable

The following letter urging all communities to protect themselves against the impending railroad strike by at once putting the roads into shape for truck traffic has been sent broadcast by the Good Roads Association of Greater Kansas City, of which J. Frank Smith is manager:

"To all State, County and local road officials: The impending rail strike, if put into effect, may extend over weeks or months. The moving of food, clothing and fuel from producer to consumer may become a vital problem. Real suffering and want may follow if all transportation is broken down. This condition may prevail in cities and country alike. There are sufficient automobiles and trucks in the county to meet the immediate demands of transportation if the highways can be kept passable. Unfortunately but few miles of hard surfaced roads, and these are in disconnected sections, prevail in Kansas and Missouri.

"A season of rainy weather would put the earth roads in bad condition for heavy motor traffic. The greatest weakness in our earth roads are the low or poorly drained places where impassable mud holes form after heavy rains. The Good Roads Association of Greater Kansas City appeals to all state, county and local road officials and road workers to put forth extra efforts immediately to place every yard of main market highways in both states in dependable condition at once to withstand a siege of heavy motor traffic in all kinds of weather.

"All low sections should be drained and filled with gravel or crushed stone —not fresh earth—to bridge them for safe traffic. Ruts in earth roads hold water and cause general destruction to grades. These main roads should be efficiently and regularly dragged during the winter months and especially till this strike crisis is over. All hard surfaced roads, bridges and culverts should be immediately repaired and put in first class condition as nearly as possible.

"Road officials should have the moral and financial support of every individual and civic club in this quick move for safety against a demoralized system of highways in a time of great need for motor transportation. Labor is available to do this work. Start it now!"

He Wouldn't

We often wonder how a chap would spend the day if he obeyed the imperatives of the subway ads. He would stand about in his undergarments putting the shot; then he would hasten to save the fruit crop, meanwhile taking steps not to be the one in four who is going to have pyorrhea; he would munch a yeast cake ever and anon, and sit (in polo clothes) in a big limousine eating a bar of almond chocolate. Or he would be leaping up and down on a filing case to see if it was really built like a skyscraper, or banging his heels on a weighing engine to find out if the crash was really as great as falling from a high building,—but when would the poor soul have time to do any work. —Bowling Green, N. KOHEA IS "IRELAND OF THE FAR EAST"

POPULACE LOOKS TO WASHINGTON TO OUST JAPANESE YOKE.

U. S. BOUND BY TREATY

Pact of 1882 Pledges Good Offices in Case Korea Is Oppressed by Third Power.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Many international observers consider Korea to be "the Ireland of the Far East."

Because of this view and because a Korean Mission is now seeking permission to inject the troublesome issue into the international conference here next month, the following article is of interest:

By Henry Chung,
Secretary of the Korean Mission.
(Written for the International News Service).

The Disarmament and Pacific Conference will have a far more important bearing upon the affairs of the Far East than had the Paris Conference of two years ago. At Paris it was a comparatively simple matter for Japan to gain her concessions in the Orient, as she had everything pre-arranged by secret agreements with the European governments to support her claims. All that she had to do was to insist upon the fulfillment of promises made to her by the Allies. The path of her diplomatic success at Washington will not be as smooth as it was at Paris.

Korea to Become Issue.

One of the questions that is bound to be brought up for discussion at the conference is the problem of what is to be done with Korea. Japanese diplomats, no doubt, will put up their familiar argument that it is a domestic affair to be settled between Korea and Japan. But, in this day and age, nations have a right to insist on fair settlement of the questions that disturb the peace of the world.

England has already extended the olive branch to her apparently irreconcilable Ireland. In this connection we should not lose sight of the fact that the Korean question is somewhat different from the domestic issues of other powers. Korea, at present, is an Ireland of nearly 20,000,000 people and no Ulster. Ireland has never had an undivided kingdom, but Korea has had one for 1,300 years and knows what independence means. The Koreans have a civilization as great as China's in many ways and greater than Japan's in most.

Japs Establish Selves.

At the beginning of the Russo-Japanese War Japan and Korea were allies. In a treaty concluded on February 23, 1904, Article III. reads:

"The Imperial Government of Japan definitely guarantees the political independence and territorial integrity of the Korean Empire."

In return for this guarantee Korea allowed Japan to use her territory as a base of military operations against Russia. However, as soon as the war was over Japanese troops remained in Korea.

At the time of the establishment of the Japanese alleged protectorate over Korea the Japanese Government assured the outside world, and especially the Korean people, that the protectorate was more or less a temporary measure to insure peace in the Orient and to assist the Korean Government until the latter should be more stable.

Perfidy of Strong.

Further, it was explicitly provided the Japanese Government should "guarantee to maintain the security and respect the dignity of the Korean imperial household," but these pledges were swept aside when Japan forced the abdication of the former Korean Emperor in 1907, and finally annexed the country to the Japanese Empire in 1910. It is a clear case of the perfidy of the strong.

The Korean people know this. They have endured the alien yoke with patience and toleration until finally the whole nation revolted against Japanese rule in the spring of 1919. This revolt was crushed out by the Japanese military forces.

Korea's yearning for political freedom is coupled with the sudden setting off of all the accumulated hate cruelty, tyranny and injustice of Japanese domination that have been practised during the ten years since the annexation.

So long as there is a Korean left there will be a cry for independence.

America is not without responsibility on the Korean question. Koreans still consider the Korean-American treaty of 1882 as binding, in which America pledged good offices in case Korea is oppressed by a third power.

In view of all these facts it will be interesting to see what President Harding and Secretary Hughes will do with regard to the Korean question at the coming disarmament conference.

DISPLACEMENT OF HORSES MAY HAVE GONE TOO FAR

Decrease in Number of Horses and Mules Has Reached Danger Point, Investigation Shows

Following the advance reports of the new census, the Horse Association of America has just issued figures, which show that Missouri has 63,741 fewer horses at work in cities, towns and villages in 1920 than there were in 1910. St. Louis alone has dropped from 27,204 horses in 1910 to 11,071 in 1920, difference of 16,133 horses. It is estimated that one-seventh of these were driving horses. This leaves a decrease of 15,829 work horses, or 50.8 per cent.

The total horse and mule decrease in cities of the U. S. averages 39 per cent. Horses and mules on farms however, show sufficient increase to make the grand total for 1920 nearly a million more than in 1910. The figures taken Jan. 1, 1920, show horses and horse-drawn equipment at absolute minimum. At that time and for two years previous, hay and grain had been higher than ever before in history, and man labor exceptionally scarce. The radical reduction in horse feeding costs and relaxing labor conditions, have both been responsible for considerable return to horse use. An adjustment is occuring and will continue for the next year or more, which will show a greater proportion of horses in city use for short hauls and deliveries.

At the recent convention cruise of Team and Motor Truck Owners Association aboard the steamer Naronic on Lake Huron, the cartage men frankly stated that displacement of horses had gone too far, and that the time was not far hence when they should be entirely restored on all work within the horse zone. The horse zone was defined as that class of work in which the horse is efficient and much more economical than motors. The movement of dead freight at low cost within the distance teams can go and return in one day, was specifically mentioned as being in the horse zone, as are all haul involving frequent stops, such as the delivery of ice, coal, milk and other commodities and cartage deliveries at pick-up, where fifteen or twenty stops must be made in distributing or building up a load.

Development of the short haul proposition was seen in the location of switching tracks immediately adjacent to factories, warehouses or stores or as near adjacent as possible. The cartage men pointed out that it costs no more to have a car "spotted" on a team track or freight station a half mile from the factory, than on a team track eight or ten miles away. Common sense indicates that it is much less expensive to move freight half a mile than 8 miles. Merchants located in cities where the freight stations are numerous and team tracks convenient, have a decided advantage in handling goods over those in cities where freight service is not equally convenient. The difference in this intermediate handling cost is great enough to make or unmake the commercial growth of a city, and the consensus was that more attention should be given to the development of switching tracks and freight stations. This would give the cities the benefit of short haul economies, and incidentally, result in increased horse use for freight moving and general delivery.

The bashful petty officer was on leave and was having a hard time making conversation.

"I suppose you've been in the Navy so long your're accustomed thoroughly to sea-legs, she suggested.

"I wasn't looking at 'em at all," he blurted, blushing. —The American Legion Weekly.

Italian Renaissance Dining Room Suite

We have on display an eight-piece suite of dining room furniture that is a little bit the nicest thing we have ever shown.

Fashion has decreed that Italian dining room furniture is the correct period style at the present time. This group is executed in the Italian walnut finish, the various bits of detail being picked out in subdued colors and dull gold.

In the complex process of finishing the pieces to simulate old cabinet ware of the Italian School an antiquer is applied which gives the wood a subdued look; but the dark rich beauty of the carefully selected veneers is not destroyed.

This group has all the charm of the antique, and yet it yields itself readily to modern requirements.

Step in and look this suite over at your convenience.

WOMAN 84 YEAR OLD CAPTURES 38 BIG RATS

Mrs. Harriet Shinabargar of Hopkins Wages Campaign Against Rodents

Mrs. Harriet Shinabargar is 84 years old, celebrated her birthday last Friday and while calling at the Journal office Monday afternoon, remarking about the rats being so numerous this fall, bothering people in her neighborhood more than they have for many years, but if all were as persistent in fighting the rodents as Mrs. Shinabargar, the country would soon be practically free from them. She keeps traps set and has caught so far this fall thirty-eight rats. Her example should be followed by more of the younger people who never turn their hands to get rid of perhaps the most dangerous enemy of the country today, rats not only being plentiful in town but are doing millions of dollars worth of damage every year throughout the rural districts. A campaign against them must be inaugurated or in time they will take the country.—Hopkins Journal.

A negro employed at one of the movie studios in Los Angeles was drafted by a director to do a novel comedy scene with a lion.

"You get into this bed," ordered the director, "and we'll bring the lion in and put him in bed with you. It will be a scream."

"Put a lion in bed with me!" yelled the negro. "No, sah! Not a-tall! I quits right here and now."

"But, protested the director, "this lion won't hurt you. This lion was brought up on milk."

"So was I brung up on milk," wailed the negro, "but I eats meat now."—From the Mason Monthly.

A can of Calumet Baking Powder will make more pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins, etc. then a can of most other brands.

It lasts longer—goes farther because it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less.

When a recipe calls for two teaspoons of baking powder, use two level teaspoons of Calumet, the results will always be the same—perfectly raised bakings—remember this when you buy baking powder and don't forget that Calumet is the economic buy because it goes farther.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

EVERY CAR OWNER MUST HAVE TITLE CERTIFICATE

New Law, Effective November 2, Has Provision Aimed at Stolen Car Market.

The new commissioner of motor vehicles at Jefferson City is preparing to send to all motor car owners in Missouri application blanks for a certificate of title. Under the new motor vehicle law, effective November 2, every owner must have a certificate of title or deed, which must be assigned to the new owner whenever the car is sold.

The certificate is expected to destroy the market for stolen cars in Missouri. It also will give police authorities help in tracing stolen cars. It is issued on payment of $1 and it need not be renewed until the car is sold. Like a deed to real estate, possession of the certificate is evidence of ownership.

In making out the application a motorist must give the history and description of the car. If the car was bought new, the application must give name of dealer, date of purchase and the amount of, and holders of mortgages.

The same details must be given if the car were bought second hand. The application must state also whether the engine number has been altered, the names of former owners and license number of the previous owner. If the car was bought from a person outside the state, the application must be accompanied by a bill of sale or certificate of registration.

The commissioner of motor vehicles, after receiving the application, issues under his seal the certificate, which must be kept by the owner until he sells the car.

The certificate of title feature of the new motor vehicle law was taken from the Maryland law.

CHRISTIAN SUNDAY SCHOOL SETS GOAL OF ONE THOUSAND

Church Also Prepares For Big Day Of Revival—Sermon Last Night On "Future Recognition"

One of the most touching appeals Evangelist D. C. Kellems has made during the revival meeting at the First Christian Church was made at the service last night on the subject of "Future Recognition" or "Shall We Know Our Friends In Heaven?"

"When we get to Heaven, shall we know our loved ones at sight or will we meet as strangers and have to get acquainted? This is the question before us tonight," declared the Evangelist. "In spite of all the objections made to future recognition I firmly believe that the Bible teaches it."

Dr. Kellems mentioned several objections that are made frequently, such as that we will be in the other world disimbodied spirits and if so recognition would not be possible. Another objection offered is that often times marriage and family relations are complex and this would cause a great difficulty if future recognition were possible.

"Some one else objects on the ground that it would mean sorrow to us to witness the destruction of the wicked. But as Noah in the Ark could not witness the destruction of the wicked neither will those in Heaven be able to witness that terrible sight. In the next world we will be able to see from Divine standpoint. As we catch God's vision of things we will be satisfied with the right, whatever that may be and we would be unhappy if anything but the right should prevail.

"We see in this world darkly as through a glass but in the next we will see face to face. The human soul never forgets anything. Everything we ever learned is still with us, though perhaps in our subjective minds, and only comes forth when we are in what we often call an abnormal condition."

Such scriptural incidents as the transfiguration of Christ; when the three worlds, the present, the intermediate and the eternal, were represented and recognition was possible; and Paul as recorded in II Corinthians 12 was caught up in the third Heaven and saw unspeakable things which it was not lawful for him to utter; and also the rich man and Lazarus were given as evidences of the fact that we shall know each other there.

"I would not give this hope of meeting my loved ones over there, my Father whom I did not worship but loved as my own life and my son who was killed in the war and whose quick footfalls I often times hear in the middle of the night as I am aroused from my slumbers. I would not give it up for anything this world can offer. This can be the possession of every one of you if you will have your Joshua lead you across the Jordon to the inheritance over there."

The sermon tonight will be a chart sermon, "The Two Beggars". A large delegation visited the meeting last night from Ravenwood and the audience overflowed into the galleries. Tonight is Salem night in the meeting and a large delegation is expected.

Boosters will hold services tonight at Ravenwood, Arkoe and Palestine. Their chief purpose is to work up interest for Sunday. The Atchison Kansas, Bible School has agreed to go into contest with the local school for two Sundays, refusing to contest with the Men's Class. Great preparations are being made for Sunday and it is expected that the goal of five hundred men and one thousand in the whole school will be reached.

EVANGELIST PREACHES ON BASIS OF DIVINE HEALING

Says Miracles Are No Longer Needed —Atchison, Kan., Proposes Sunday School Contest

Another great crowd, as large as any heretofore attending the revival at the First Christian Church heard the sermon Wednesday night on "Divine Healing."

"No one of us will doubt that God has power to heal," declared the evangelist. "But putting the mission of Jesus Christ on the level of healing human bodies is absolutely wrong. The great proof text of all Divine Healers is the statement of Jesus recorded in John 14:12. 'Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto the Father.'

"This text suggests two questions; the first one is, do those who heal today do the same kind of healing Jesus did, and the second question is, are they doing greater works of miracles than Jesus? We find in Matt. 4:23-24 that Jesus healed all manner of disease and all manner of sickness, those possessed with demons, epiletic and palsied. Are the present day healers performing greater miracles than these? And yet according to their great proof text if they are applying it correctly they should perform greater miracles than these.

"There are four kinds of diseases, known in medical science as functional, organic, infectious and contagious. The only cases of healing that can be found are functional troubles and all such are caused by mental delusions. I do not claim any Divine power for myself but I am able myself and have done so many times to duplicate every kind of healing as practised by present day healers.

"God performed a miracle in creation. The mission of Moses was confirmed by a miracle. Jesus performed miracles and gave that same power to his Apostles, as he promised to do in the text tonight. The purposes of miracles was to confirm the Word of God as is definitely stated in Mark 16:20. And they (the Apostles) went forth and preached every where, the Lord working with them and confirming the Word by signs that followed.'

"In the last chapter of John, we find that John states that the miracles of Christ were recorded that the people might believe that Jesus is the Christ. That was in the early stages of Christianity, when the foundations were being laid and it was necessary to perform miracles to confirm the Word. Now that the Word has been confirmed and the foundation of Christianity laid, the very purpose of miracles has been fulfilled and there is no need for miracles today.

"The Apostles not only had power to perform miracles but they could, by imposition of hands, transmit that same power to others. We find that during the later years of the Apostles' lives they laid their hands upon some of the younger brethern of the church and it was not until these died that miracles actually ceased in the church. Because of this it is not correct to say that miracles ceased with the apostolis age, for miracles did exist down toward the middle of the second century.

"Another great text of Divine Healers is Mark 16:17 18. 'And these signs shal lacecompany them that believe: in my name shall they cast out demons; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover. Why didn't somebody start a church on casting out deacons or speaking with new tongues, or taking up serpents or drinking deadly poison? Why should any one pick out the last statement of his text, build a church upon that and ignore all the rest. I am quite certain that no Divine healer would be willing to drink poison that I could fix in a few minutes time. This text was spoken to the twelve Apostles who had the power of miracles as any close reading of the text will show.

"I believe in healing as much as anybody but I insist that it should be done upon a scientific basis and not upon a so-called Divine basis, for it is neither Christian nor scientific. Any doctrine that repudiates the divinity of Christ, the existence of sin, its anti-Christ and takes away from the Christian religion its very foundation. The mission of Christ in the world was not to heal the body but He came to seek and to save the lost. And the 'greater works' that the Apostles were to do by the power of the Holy Spirit were to preach the Gospel of Redemption. In the new dispensation saving men from their sins and preaching them into the Church of Christ were the "greater works."

Professor Humbert will sing and Mrs. Snodgrass will sing,"Beautiful Beckoning Hands."

The pastor announced a communication from Atchison, Kan., proposing an attendance contest in the Sunday School for two Sundays rather than the one Sunday, and the Atchison School would not accept the challenge to the Men's Class. It was decided to leave final arrangements with Supt. E. W. Glenn. He will get in touch with them today. The pastor expects to hear from Shreveport, La., today and be able to make definite announcements regarding the attendance contest with them at the service tonight.

A large crowd of workers with automobiles will report at the Church in the morning at 9 o'clock for a booster trip over the country, working up attendance for Sunday. Five hundred men are expected at the Men's Class Sunday morning, with no less than one thousand in the entire school.

At a recent discussion of the tariff, Senator Lodge remarked: "The tariff question always reminds me of the suburbanite who was delegated by the finer half of the sketch to make a purchase at a down-town department store, but by the time he arrived at the store had forgotten his instructions, so remarked to the clerk: "I want to buy either a casserole or a camisole, and I can't remember which. Can you help me out?" And the pert salesman helped out with: 'It depends on the kind of chicken you want to put in it.'"

"Order in the court room!" bellowed the judge sternly, pounding with his gavel.

"Thash right, judge, and then shee what the boys in the back room will have too" genially came back the defendant who hadn't taken Volstead seriously.—American Legion Weekly

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS IN CONVENTION NEXT MONTH

State Association Meets at St. Louis November 15-18—Many Outstanding Speakers

Officers of the Nodaway County Sunday School Association are anxious to have this county represented by a large delegation at the fifty-sixth annual convention of the Missouri Sunday School Association, which will be held in St. Louis on November 15, 16, 17 and 18. At the grave of the departed the old darkey pastor stood, hat in hand. Looking into the abyss he delivered himself of the funeral oration.

"Samuel Johnson," he said sorrowfully, "you is gone. An' we hopes you is gone where we 'speeks you ain't."

ROAD PROJECTS TO HELP UNEMPLOYED

PROMPT ACTION BY SPECIAL LEGISLATURE IS URGED

ISSUE BONDS AT ONCE

St. Louis to Kansas City Highway Would Furnish Work For 1500 Men

Jefferson City, Oct. 21—Missouri can provide work for several thousand men if the approaching special session of the legislature will provide for the immediate issuance of the $60,000,000 road bond issue insted of waiting until March, 1923, and the building program can be augmented by federal congress making an additional appropriation to match $3,000,000 for projects now ready for approval.

The state highway department now has under contract $12,200,000 worth of work which provides employment for approximately 3,500 men. This work is increasing at the rate of $500,000 per month and the average of road completed is $1,000,000 per month.

The state highway board has been forced to withdraw projects which already had been approved to the extent of $500,000 in order to keep within the federal appropriation to the state, only $9,322,600 being allotted and available at this time.

Because of this situation acting Governor Hiram Lloyd has wired Secretary of Commerce Hoover that the highway department can approve within 90 days projects totalling between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000 of additional federal aid can be made available at once.

Here are some of the counties which have money to spend but are awaiting the federal aid:

Mississippi county, $745,000; Harrison, $500,000; Dunklin, $750,000; Stoddard, $200,000; Buchanan, $200,000; Scott, $100,000; Jasper, $100,000.

The plans for the projects in five of the counties already have been completed and could be sent to the federal bureau for approval within a short time.

One road booster declared Thursday that the construction of the highway between Kansas City and St. Louis could furnish employment to 5,000 men. This proposed highway is part of the 1,500 mile system of high type roads connecting the large cities of the state to be built at an approximate cost of $40,000,000.

With the issuance of the state bonds, this road booster said it would be feasible for the state to let the contracts so as to start work at 10 different points on the highway. Approximately 500 men could be employed in each of the 10 camps.

HOUSE SEATS DEMOCRAT ELECTED FROM ST. LOUIS

Republican Opponent of Major Harry B. Dawes Fails to Show Fraud He Charged.

Washington, Oct. 21—Representative H. B. Hawes, Democrat, of the Eleventh Missouri District, was given his seat today when House Elections Committee No. 1 reported that Bernard P. Bogy, Republican, opponent of Hawes in the election of 1920, had failed to show fraud or to submit certain evidence asked by the committee. The house adopted the report.

Representative Dallinger, chairman of the elections committee, which handled the contest, simply read the report of the committee and then waited for Representative Hawes to make some statement. When Hawes waived this right, Dallinger called for the vote.

Following a week of community meetings at which the work of the Farm Bureau was reviewed and plans made for the coming year, the farmers of Holt county are engaged this week in increasing the membership of the Farm Bureau in that county. MISSOURI'S OCTOBER FAMOUS FOR ITS DELIGHTFUL WEATHER

There is a school that believes in geographic determinism. That is, that our civilization, the degree, kind and progress of it, is due almost entirely to geographic conditions, such as the typography of the country, its natural resources, and above everything else, its climate. Workmen's efficiency in the different climates has been tested and it has been found that they work best in the region subject to sudden and decided changes.

If this is the case, then Missouri should be the most progressive, the most civilized spot in the world. Often in the morning only organdie would be comfortable, but by evening fur coats are in order. One day the sun is shining and the day is warm, the next it may be snowing or sleeting.

But there is one month in the year that Missourians look forward to, for it is fairly stationary and its beauty is unsurpassed. Mark Twain, who was a great traveler was asked what climate he liked best. He answered, and he expressed the sentiments of his fellow-Missourians, "October in Missouri."

With September so unusually disagreeable this year, some persons were afraid that maybe October would be different from the usual "bright blue weather." But is has started out with the promise of being as beautiful and delightful as ever.

LEE SHIPPEY MARRIES MILLE MADELINE BABIN

Missouri Poet's Wedding Marks End Of International Triangle Which Received Much Publicity

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 21—Lee Shippey, Los Angeles newspaper man and Mlle. Madeline Babin of Paris, France, were married at Mexico City a few days ago, according to a special dispatch received by the San Antonio Light today.

The wedding was the end of a triangle which has received much publicity throughout the United States, involving a divorce action in Kansas City by Mrs. Mary Blake Woodson Shippey, wife of Lee Shippey, following the return from France of Shippey.

Mlle. Babin came to the United States. An effort to exclude the French woman from America failed. Shippey later went to Mexico and Mlle. Babin and her mother established themselves at Monterey, Shippey living at Tampico. A Kansas City court granted Mrs. Shippey a divorce, and the marriage at Mexico City followed.

After the wedding at Mexico City Shippey stated that it really was their second marriage, as they had been married in a church in Paris more than two years ago by a ritual of their own.

E. C. Moore was a Nodaway County shipper who had two cars of cattle and hogs on sale at the St. Joseph market yesterday.

The Bronx is nothing if not enterprising.

Recently one of the film houses there was running the tear-compelling "Madam X." The haberdashery store next door gave up its window to a big picture from the film, carring beneath it this legend:

"Buy a handkerchief here before you see it."—New York World.

"How did you lose your last job?"

"I was fired for making a mistake."

"That seems unfair. We are liable to make mistakes."

"Yes but I told the boss that he couldn't get along without me."

"Why the noise?"

"The barber is shaving himself."

"But why the argument?"

"He is trying to persuade himself to have a shampoo."

"That was a terrifying mistake you made yesterday in my footcase ad!"

"Whaddaya mean, terrifying?"

"Instead of having it 'Shake into your shoes,' you had had it shake in your shoes.'"

The world's biggest cheese—No, no, not the person you have in mind!—the world's biggest cheese was made in New York for the State fair in Syracuse, using 150,000 pounds of milk or one day's output of 7500 cows. It will weigh 12 tons. By the way, who was suggested to you by the phrase "the world's biggest cheese"?

City Official Admits Fraud.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—Milton Rosenheim, city weigher, confessed to detectives today that he conspired with the St. Clair Coal and Mining Company to short weigh the coal purchased by the city during 1918 and 1919. He admitted he fleeced the city of $10,000 through false weights. Edwin Kleine, son of the president of the St. Clair coal company, is implicated. Rosenheim alleged Kleine paid him $2,000 to give short weights.

JOG ON, JEHOSOPHAT

By Griff Crawford, in the Gloom Chaser

Road gets rougher every mile;
(Chuck) Jog on, Jehosophat, an' show some style.
Mule's gone lame, an' the hens won't lay;
Corn's way down, an' wheat don't pay;

Hogs no better, steers too cheap;
Cow's quit milkin'; meat won't keep;
Oats all heated, spuds all froze;
Fruit crop's busted, wind still blows;
Sheep seems puny, an' I'll be durned,
Rye field's flooded an' the hay stack's burned!
Looks some gloomy, I'll admit—
(Cluck) Jog on, Jehosophat, we ain't down yit.

Coal's in high an' crops in low;
Rail rates doubled, got no show;
Money's tighter, morals loose;
Bound to git us—what's the use?
Sun's not shinin' as it should:
Moon ain't lightin' like it could;
Air seems heavy; water punk;
Tests yer mettle; shows yer spunk;
No use stoppin' to debate—
(Cluck) Jog on Jehosophat, i'ts gettin' late.

Wheels all wobble; axle's bent;
Dashboard's broken; top all rent;
One shaft splintered; tother sags;
Seats all busted; end-gate drags;
May hang t'gether—b'lieve it will;
Careful drivin' 'll make it still:
Road's some better, not so rough—
TROT! Gosh ding ye. That's the stuff.
Old trap's movin' right good speed—
(Cluck) Jog on, Jehosophat, your're some old steed.

Road's smoothed out 'till it don't seem true—
(Cluck!) Jog on, Jehosophat, you pulled us through!

Armstrongs Return From Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Armstrong returned last night from a three weeks motor trip of 1,300 miles through Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas. While visiting in Springdale, Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong partook of a giant sweet potato, which furnished food for ten persons at dinner, six persons at supper, and some was left after both meals. With the exception of a five-year-old child the persons indulging had full-grown appetites. Eome sweet potato, eh?

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moffitt and son, Charles, were Maryville visitors from Clyde today.
